THE PROJECT

1901 WESTCLIFF DRIVE

is 20,000 SF of meticulously crafted, mid-century modern architecture. This historically significant project was originally constructed in 1963 and designed by master architect Richard Neutra, who most famously worked with Frank Lloyd Wright. The Orange County chapter of the American Institute of Architects has cited the property as one of the county's most significant buildings. Using historic photographs and preserved construction drawings, the space has recently undergone an extensive, multi-million dollar effort to restore the buildings to their original glory.
